An ecosystem is a series of networks, channels, & resources all working together to provide for its inhabitants. It provides nourishment and sources what it's community needs to function at a higher capacity.

Today, we highlight & celebrate the musical ecosystem that bridged the gap between Canada & Jamaica. The late Karl Winston Mullings was this and more.

A ribbon cutting ceremony was held at the KW Mullings Channel on Oct 17th coincidentally the 50th birthday of Karl's eldest daughter & founder of Stages Canada, Carrie Mullings. Daughters Tanya Mullings; veteran reggae artist & Multi-award winner, & Karl's youngest Keely Davis, celebrated with Garnett Manning, the Mayor of Brampton Patrick Brown, & Brampton West MP candidate Murarilal Thapliyal.

Family, friends and city officials weathered the crisp air and brisk wind that blew across the channel. Opening the ceremony was a welcomed warm sound from recording artist Natural Fyah whose vocal interlude & tribute song opened the ceremony perfectly.

Among attendees at the historic event were close friends of Karl's, namely; Tipper Henry & Luther Brown, who spoke heartfelt words which highlighted their fondest memories of Karl Mullings & his contributions to the community and the growth of the genre—reggae both in Canada & Jamaica.

The Mullings family are honoured to have shared such a memorable event with the very community that their father & patriarch worked so hard to help grow and sustain and in a city which he also called home.

The memory, contributions, & legacy of Karl Winston Mullings lives on, now represented by the ecosystem in Brampton that thrives in his name, and will echo through the naturally occurring habitat beautiful reminders of the work of his hands, his heart & his soul.
